

SOFT IMAGE

The system locker makes assembly easy.

Choose between an image on the front only or both the front and sides.

Side attachments for extending the image across the sides are standard on all frames.

There are occasions when you need to move quickly and still be as cost-effective as possible. At the same time it is important to put across your message in a powerful and convincing way. This is when Soft Image comes into its own right.

The system really only comprises two parts – an aluminium frame and a fabric graphic. Open it up and in just a few seconds you have a display area that is several feet in size. As the images are printed on fabric, Soft Image takes up very little space when folded into the frame. Thanks to the aluminium construction it also weighs very little in relation to the image area, making the system easy to handle and carry. The image is attached using Velcro and can be easily replaced when the time comes to change the message or when you need to switch quickly between different messages.
